

HOPE FOR PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT, SINO, JAPANESE DISPUTE

Chinese Division Leaves
Wangping; Japanese
Retire to Fengtai

TENSION IS LIFTED

British Embassy at Nanking
Asks Settlement Without Arms Recourse

By International News Service
Hope for peaceful settlement of the Sino-Japanese dispute in North China brightened today. Latest developments:

1. Chinese 37th Division troops leave
"holy grounds" of Wangping, while Japanese forces retire to Fengtai regions.
2. Japanese hotel at Hong Kong guarded after being stoned by Chinese.
3. Chinese general arrested at Tientsin in assassination plot to assassinate Japanese Ambassador Kawagoe.
4. Japanese officials feel Sino-Japanese tension has lifted.

LONDON, July 22.—(INS)—The London Daily Express reported today
that the British embassy at Nanking called on Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, Chinese military dictator, handing him an appeal already sent to both sides in the Sino-Japanese dispute, asking settlement of the North China
controversy without recourse to arms.

PEIPING, July 22.—(INS)—After hours of indecision and threats of a renewed Japanese attack on Chinese positions, the outlook for a peaceful settlement of the Sino-Japanese dispute suddenly brightened today as troops of both sides withdrew from the danger zones.

Units of the 37th Chinese Division
left the Wang Ping area and Japanese troops retired from their "front line" posts to concentration points in the region of Fengtai.

Earlier, Chinese authorities had informed International News Service that a Japanese attack might be expected momentarily.

These fears were raised by a hitch
in withdrawal of the Chinese troops in accordance with an agreement between Japanese and Hopeichahar political council officials, and by the statement of the commander of the Chinese garrison, who said:

"Wang Ping is holy ground, and we will never retire from it."

For hours after this, the 37th Division refused to give up Wang Ping, upsetting for a time all peaceful calculations. Finally, however, they were persuaded to leave when the Japanese also retired.

Authorities stated that British and United States citizens here have been warned to assemble at safety zones
when the British and American embassies sound alarm signals.

Officers of the United States Fifteenth Infantry at Tientsin ridiculed false reports widely published abroad
that the regiment had been ordered to "stand by under war packs."

They pointed out that half the Fifteenth Infantry's strength is now at the Ching Wang-Tao rifle range, 170 miles from Tientsin, while the force at Tientsin remains normal.

An attempt was made a week ago,
the officers said, by a few Americans to organize a civilian defense corps
but the movement received no response and was dropped completely as useless. They stated the American community at Tientsin is not menaced.

Lindbergh Devotes Time To Invention

London, July 22.—In the seclusion of his English country home at Weald, amid the rolling foothills of Kent, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today was seeking the secret of life.

With aviation which made him world
famous now a secondary interest, Lindergh is devoting his time to perfection of the "artificial heart" which he has invented and which may give him an even more lasting niche in the hall of fame than his aeronautical achievements.

Back from his flying visit to the little island of St. Gildas, on the Brittany coast, where he has carried out experiments with his collaborator, Dr. Alexis Carrel, Lindbergh is working far into the night on his "robot heart."

tuckians will be able to eat their ice cream with more enjoyment this summer. The Court of Appeals refused to change its previous ruling holding invalid the 28-cents-a-gallon ice cream

Last summer all quantities of ice cream were taxed, ice cream cones costing 6 instead of five cents each,
the extra penny representing 20 per cent in taxation.

Start Distribution Today Of New 'Phone Directories

Distribution of a new telephone directory for Bristol and vicinity was begun today. The distribution will be completed tomorrow. It was announced by C. Robert Green, manager here for the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Approximately 19,600 directories are being delivered to the homes and offices of telephone subscribers. This figure represents a gain of 800 over the previous issue. A force of 65 men are making the distribution.

Mr. Green estimated that there has been a gain of approximately 9,200 listings since the last directory was published. This brings the total number of listings in the white section of the new book close to 122,000.

"The new directory contains many new and changed numbers," Mr.
Green continued, "and time will be saved if subscribers will consult it for the correct numbers before placing calls."

"Occasionally, memoranda, papers
or other valuable material are inserted between the pages of the telephone directory by subscribers. For this reason a last minute check of the old directory before it is collected may save a long and possible fruitless search later on."

Triumphant Opposition To Court Bill "Writes Ticket"

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(INS)—
The triumphant Senate opposition to President Roosevelt's Supreme Court
Bill today undertook the task of "writing their own ticket" on judicial changes for the lesser federal judiciary while banning all changes in the nation's highest tribunal.

This offer to the opposition to "write their own ticket" came from Vice-President Garner after the administration conceded defeat on the President's bill. The Senate Judiciary Committee was summoned into special session this morning to initiate the final compromise, which both sides expect to enact before Congress adjourns.

The new bill probably will carry provisions to:

1. Authorize immediate appeals from district courts to the Supreme Court on issues involving the constitutionality of federal laws.
2. Authorize the Attorney General to intervene in any private suit in which constitutional questions are raised affecting the government's interest.
3. Place a limitation on fees and salaries in receivership cases.
4. Limit the use of injunctions by federal courts to prevent the operation of federal laws upon the ground of unconstitutionality.
5. Harmonize conflicting constitutional decisions in different federal circuits by insuring prompt review in the Supreme Court of such conflicting opinions.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS IS HEAVY ON SECOND DAY FOR SUCH; 1,570 REGISTER IN BRISTOL; BENSALEM, BRISTOL TWPS. DOUBLE FORMER NUMBER

The second registration day for voters of Bucks County called out in numerous districts yesterday more than twice as many as on the first registration day, June 25th.

In Bristol and Bensalem Townships the total number registering yesterday under the new Permanent Registration Act was over twice the number which registered on the initial date. Bristol Borough had 1,570 yesterday, as compared to 1,045 on the first date to register.

In spite of the fact that registration was heavy, the work was expedited in most of the districts through additions of clerks. This additional help aided in the smoother flow of those who came in large numbers to register with the party of their choice, and the time for filling out the questionnaires was cut down considerably.

Many of the polling places, where registrations occurred, were kept open until nine and 10 o'clock, and at some points until nearly midnight. The heaviest registrations were reported during the evening hours.

The county-wide registration is reported as being heavy, but no tabulation of figures was available from districts in other parts of the county at an early hour this morning.

A comparison of totals for the lower section of Bucks County shows that on June 25th Bristol borough had 1045, as compared to 1570 yesterday; Bristol Township, 323 on June 25th, compared to 833 yesterday; Hulmeville borough, 89 on June 25th, as against 198 yesterday; Tullytown borough, 75 on the first registration day, and 80 yesterday; Bensalem Township, 423 on June 25th, and 920 yesterday.

For comparison with the table of yesterday's registration, the totals for June 25th registration are here given for Bristol borough: 1st w., 1st p., 99; 1st w., 2nd p., 115; 2nd w., 156; 3rd w., 126; 4th w., 1st p., 72; 4th w.,

"Cabanna" Confesses Part in Beebe Hold-Up

Boston, Mass., July 22.—Waiving extradition, George Bowen, 28, Chelsea, known as "Joe Cabanna," prize-fighter, today confessed he took part in the $7,200 holdup on April 9th of the Lucius
Beebe Company tannery, at Bristol,

Discuss Plans For Park, Morrisville Water-Front

MORRISVILLE, July 22.—A park area development may be arranged for enjoyment of Morrisville residents, if tentative plans reach fruition.

After a discussion regarding such between Assemblyman Thomas B.
Stockham, and Dr. James F. Bogardus, secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, the riverfront was inspected this week.

The building of a high dike to serve as a retaining wall received special attention, being the first step in the proposed beautification plan. Concrete is being poured for the foundation of the wall which is expected to end the Spring flood menace created by the river.

Dr. Bogardus stated that he desired to study possible sites for an outlet for the Penna. canal above Morrisville, in the event that it is taken over by the State. The stream would be diverted and the bed abandoned through Morrisville, it is expected, while the upper part of the canal would be the basis for further park development along the river.

However, the canal situation is now
in litigation in the courts and a definite prediction about the possibility of executing such a plan was withheld.
However, Mr. Stockham displayed enthusiasm over the plan, which would be an extension of the general park scheme which the new dike has started.

Workmen assigned by the W.P.A. have been preparing a deep trench in preparation for the pouring of concrete. The dike will have an even elevation of 32 feet, which is 30 inches above the highest known flood stage.

THE REAL REASON

Mr. Tydings (Md.): "I know the Senator has covered the ground, but would he mind in just a sentence, if he could, stating what he thinks the real reason for (Court) proposal is?"

Mr. Logan (Ky.): "The real reason for the proposal is to correct a situation which has grown up within the Supreme Court, internal dissension among the members, with such a hardening of mind that the Country cannot get an unbiased consideration of the great questions which need to be solved. This modified bill would allow a little help in that it would allow one new judge each year to be appointed for those who are over 75 years of age, because it is hoped to have judges who would agree with the minority, that is, the old minority, rather than the majority, in order to secure fair and impartial consideration by unbiased judges."—Congressional Record, Thursday, July 8.

Keep the true intent of the Court legislation in mind!

Running through two days in the Senate, the Logan speech forms the chief defense of the Court compromise bill yet made there. A singular situation exists in which no joint statement or report by supporters of the Court program is available. Logan, a senator since 1930 and a former chief justice of the Kentucky Supreme Court, has become perhaps the ablest pro-Administration give-and-take debater in Congress.

He is the chief author of the compromise.

His answer to Tydings came at the close of the speech, after a series of questions asking him to give "the real reason" for the legislation. The reply seems the best that the best Administration speaker could make. The Senate lawyer and former judge, dealing with the delicacies in legislative tampering with the Federal judiciary, was compelled to be obscure; but he so subordinates the arguments against keeping judges of advanced age in service that they become a smoke-screen for giving the President power to affect the character of the Court's decisions. And that blow to the Court's independence is the real reason why the bill should be defeated.

THE DOCTOR'S ORDERS

From the advice of physicians as recorded in our news columns, it appears that keeping cool in the hot weather is a matter of diet, clothing, common sense and soap and water. Avoid heavy meals, steer a wide course away from too much meat. Wear light clothing and as little of it as possible. Stay out of the mid-day sun, eschew the active life when the mercury's in the nineties. Finally, use as much soap and water externally as the law allows.

They are sound prescriptions, easy to follow. They require no outlay of energy for their observance. A person may sit in the quiet of his home and obey all of them. He may, indeed, cite the formula as argument against the importuning of fellows who speak of tennis or golf or working in the garden. With it he may defend himself against the torture of complete attire.

Through all the dog days now upon us, he may sit motionless and at ease, a cooling drink nearby, a minimum of clothes upon his body, interrupting his calm occasionally for the refreshment of a shower. It will be following the doctor's orders.

COMFORTABLE CARB
NECESSARY FOR THE
CHILDREN IN SUMMERBy Miss Edna Stephany
(Home Economics Representative)

If small children seem to become distressingly peevish in hot weather, it may be due to uncomfortable clothing. Toddlers can practically live in inexpensive little sun suits on sunny days and bright play suits in rainy weather when a sun suit does not offer enough protection against cold and dampness.

An ample supply of these garments may be bought or made at small cost. One catalogue advertises two sun suits made of color-fast percale selling for 27 cents. If they are made at home, sun-fast, tub-fast, sanforized shrunk fabrics may be bought for about 30 cents a yard. It takes about 1/2 yard of material, two zippers for the sides, and six buttons, to make a sun suit which opens out flat like a handkerchief when it is to be washed and ironed.

Some mothers make very cool suits for their toddlers out of mesh dish cloths that may be purchased at the ten cent stores. It takes two cloths to make a sun suit. Lay one cloth on top of the other and stitch them together about 3 inches above the point of one corner. This makes a comfortable crotch seam. The extra flaps may be turned back and stitched down flat to serve as a reinforcement.

Open the cloths and place them between the legs of the child so that the crotch seam will be in position. Now measure up the front to get the correct length and turn down the top corner which will serve as a facing for the top front of the sun suit.

The other dish cloth will form the pantie-back and be cut accordingly. This edge may be finished with a band, small binding, or elastic. Ribbon or tape straps attached to the corners of the front facing, crossed across the child's back, and sewed, buttoned, or tied to the pantie-back, will keep the sun suit in position. When the sides are sewed up, the other corners will form little fans that spread away from the hips like a Dutchman's breeches. Two bandana handkerchiefs may likewise be used instead of the dishcloths.

mixed with butter. Add chopped hard-cooked egg to a creamy white sauce and pour over the toast. Sprinkle with grated cheese, if desired, and serve at once. This is a quickly-made luncheon dish. Sliced tomatoes are a good side order.

Party Salad

This inviting salad won a prize recently in competition with other Summer salads. Why not make it the center of a luncheon, serving crisp wafers, or Melba toast, tomato juice and tea.

Pare three avocados, cut in half lengthwise, remove seed and membrane. Fill halves with a mixture of one-half pound cottage cheese, one cup chopped pecans, or California walnuts, one cup shredded ripe olives, one teaspoon minced chives or parsley and one-half teaspoon salt.

Press the two avocado halves together, wrap in waxed paper, twisting ends firmly in place. Chill thoroughly. Unwrap and slice crosswise. The colorful slices may be served in a nest of crisp endive or watercress, sprinkled with French dressing. This quantity will serve eight guests, allowing three slices for each serving.

Vegetable Luncheon

This is the July-August version of the vegetable luncheon, meaning that it is served crisp and cold, with toasted wafers and cheese.

Sprinkle a cooked head of cauliflower with tomato French dressing, chopped pimiento and parsley. Chill thoroughly. Arrange cauliflower in center of large round platter. Surround with crisp lettuce cups, filled with nests of sliced cucumbers, sliced tomatoes and tiny cooked artichokes. Garnish with slices of avocado.

Serve with French or Thousand Island dressing. Time and labor in preparation will be eliminated by buying the artichoke hearts, rather than the whole artichoke.

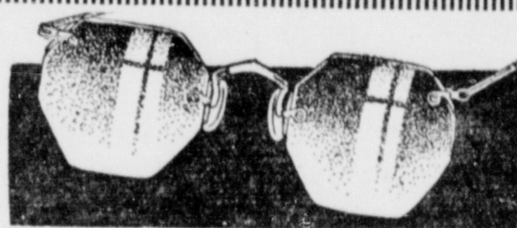

VEGETABLE-CHEESE CASSEROLE

One and one-half cups scalded milk, one cup soft bread crumbs, one-fourth cup melted butter, one tablespoon chopped parsley, one and one-half tablespoons chopped onion, one and one-half cups grated American cheese, three-eighths teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, dash paprika, three eggs, one cup cooked vegetables.

Pour the scalded milk over the bread crumbs. Add butter, parsley, onion, grated cheese, seasonings and chopped pimientos, if liked. Next add the well beaten eggs.

Put the vegetables in a greased casserole and pour the milk and cheese mixture over them. Buttered crumbs may be sprinkled over the top. Set in a pan of warm water and bake about one and one-quarter hours in a slow oven of 325 degrees F. Serves six.

Two cups of diced cooked chicken, or two cups of cooked or canned fish, flaked, may be added to this dish for variety. It is excellent for luncheon, particularly for the children, and may be taken hot to the picnic grounds.

HELPFUL HINTS

Clothes lines and clothes pins need washing, too. Put them in a deep pan, and give them a bath in hot, sudsy water two or three times a year. Rinse in clear, hot water and dry in the sunshine. This treatment not only prevents dirt stains on the laundry, but will prolong the life of the clothesline.

Avoid cooking in strong drafts, when using gas. The flame may blow out from under the sides of the pans, wasting gas and threatening serious trouble.

To prevent cleanser cans from slipping when your hands are wet, place two large, tight rubber bands around the can, an inch or so apart. This is particularly helpful in the bathroom, where an extra can of cleanser and a package of soap flakes will save many a trip to the kitchen.

A bed of small stones directly in front of the basement windows will prevent mud from splashing up on the windows in rainy weather. Gather up stones for your anti-splasher pile when doing gardening.

A neat little clock which may be set to ring in a half hour, or so many minutes, is a wise kitchen investment which will save you time, money and anxiety. These new clocks are styled in pastels to harmonize with the kitchen color schemes. Set it as a reminder for oven baking, or to rouse you from the much-needed "thirty winks" which so often are postponed because of responsibilities just ahead.

INDIVIDUAL SHORTCAKES

Three eggs, grated rind of one-half lemon, three-fourths teaspoon baking powder, three-fourths cup powdered sugar, juice of one-half lemon, three-fourths cup flour, one-eighth teaspoon salt.

Separate the eggs. Beat the yolks until light and the whites until stiff. Add the sugar, lemon juice and rind to the yolks and continue beating until the mixture is thick. Sift the dry ingredients together, and fold alternately with the whipped egg whites into the first mixture.

Transfer to medium-sized greased muffin tins and bake at 375 degrees F. about 20 minutes. Serve with a sauce of any sweetened fruit or berries—strawberries, peaches, blueberries, and top with whipped cream.

VITAMIN ALPHABET

Homemakers who find it hard to learn the vitamin alphabet may be helped by the following simple explanation, which comes from authorities in Washington:

Vitamin A is said to prevent an eye defect.
Vitamin B, beriberi.
Vitamin C, scurvy.
Vitamin D, rickets.
Vitamin G, pellagra.
The nutritionists say that the American diet commonly lacks iron. Foods rich in iron are liver, meats, eggs and green, leafy vegetables. Recent government analyses revealed that next to liver, the oyster is the best natural source of iron and copper.

FASHION PARADE

By Orry-Kelly

(Famous Hollywood Stylist Writing For International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—The most frequently asked questions of the past month have been in regard to who can wear prints; what kind of belts are generally the most becoming and most fashionable and how many colors can be safely introduced into one ensemble.

About prints—anyone under the sun can wear them, providing, of course, they are lovely prints. Big women can wear big or little figured prints. The main snag they run into is too many colors in the design or colors that are too bright. Both of these visually increase the size of the woman. There is also no reason why large women should not wear light colors in the summer, since they are cooler. It is more important that they watch the lines of the dress, steering clear of elbow-length sleeves, round necks, short boxy jackets and waistlines that cut the length of the skirt.

Little girls like Mary Maguire should stick to small designs in their prints and vertical lines in designs.

Wide belts are the most difficult to wear. However if they are soft and crushed like the cummerbund we did for Verree Teasdale in "First Lady" they give a nice contour to the waistline. It's the wide, stiff belts, such as those made of suede or patent leather, that are the most difficult to wear. We find that when fitting dresses or submitting sketches to a star they are frequently more interested in the belt treatment than any other part of the dress. Marion Davies particularly adores novelty belts and usually when she introduces a new kind in a picture it is immediately copied from coast to coast. A shepherdess belt she wore in a recent picture started the current trend for their type of girdle.

String belts are rapidly becoming more popular even as they were a few years ago when the silhouette was so similar to today's... with short skirt, slim lines and almost normal waistline.

The number of colors that can be introduced into a single ensemble is a moot question considering that many prints have a dozen hues showing up in them. However for the ordinary ensemble based on a monotone dress or coat three, or even four colors are not too many provided they all harmonize nicely. In "Inside Story" June Travis wears a plaid skirt woven in a large brown and cream check; her short-sleeved sweater is yellow wool; her top sweater is rust colored wool lined in matching crepe; her tailored hat is the shade of brown in the skirt but is banded with yellow, rust and green; all accessories are brown. There we have five colors in an ensemble and it isn't a whit too colorful because the colors have been so adroitly handled.

25,000 CANS OF PINEAPPLE...

UNITY AND FRANKFORD BRANDS

To say "We buy by the carload" is easy. To sell 25,000 cans of pineapple is more difficult — yet it must be done to obtain the lowest wholesale price.

Long ago a group of retail grocers in Frankford decided that while individually a grocer could never hope to buy in large enough quantities to obtain carload prices, a number of grocers buying together could. They united—forming the nucleus of the great organization of today, The Frankford Grocers Association and the Frankford Grocery Company.

A special spur of railroad now runs into the company's warehouse. Over it pours a steady stream of foodstuffs constantly demanded by the patrons of over 2000 Frankford Association Stores. . . This growth is a tribute to the wisdom of housewives in buying quality but economical foods.

Take advantage of these values made possible through carload buying:

FETTE IS RATED BEST AMONG NEWER HURLERS

By Lawton Carver
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 22—(INS)—First year pitching phenoms sometimes fold up during their second or third year in the majors and never again through their careers attain ranking they enjoyed as freshmen. But they say Lou Fette will get still better, if anything.

The 30-year-old right-handed rookie of the Boston Bees is rated by unanimous acclaim as the outstanding pitching debutante of the current campaign, and in proving himself has had to offset the deficiencies of a rank second division club, and outdo the exploits of several other notable newcomers.

Bob Feller was expected to shoulder the seasonal honor like a sack of his native Idaho potatoes and cakewalk right off with it, but a bad arm, streaks of wildness, perhaps misdirection, as some have charged, and other odds and ends of tribulations retarded progress of the celebrated papoose.

While all eyes were turned to Feller, most bally-hoed player to be brought in out of the tall juniper in years, Fette quietly was knitting himself a record that took him to the head of the first year class and, so far as anybody can see now, he will stay there through the rest of the season, and ought to do all right for a few seasons to come, although, because of his age, he doesn't figure to last as long as some others.

He won 11 out of his first 14 games, and spiced it up with four shutouts, four one-run performances, and five extra-inning victories. As Mr. Bill McKechnie, his manager, put it recently, "If that isn't pitching, what is it?"

However, his first year showing isn't surprising to a few who knew what the pride and joy of Alma, Mo., had been doing through the minors. The fact is, he came into the major leagues with everything he needed to virtually assure him of success, in contrast to Feller, who lacked experience and control. Fette tried to make the jump from a Des Moines school nine all the way to the very pinnacle. Fette took it by easy stages over a period of nine years since he left Missouri Valley College in 1928 and became a Kansas City farm hand at Pueblo. He won 20 that year.

From that promising beginning he gradually worked himself up to St. Paul, where he set the association

Tommy Farr, heavyweight champion of the British Empire, holds up his stock in trade, as he arrives in New York. Farr expressed the greatest confidence in his ability to flatten world's champion Joe Louis in their scheduled bout in August.

adire last season. He pitched 28 complete games, appeared in 35, and won 25, leading in wins and losses percentage, in number of innings pitched, number of complete games pitched, number of batters facing him and in a few other odds and ends in the records. In other words, he's traveling on something.

In spite of all of that, he very nearly missed his chance at this late date to get into the major leagues. The White Sox purchased him conditionally last season, then promptly let him go. The Bees were glad to land him.

Unless he does the unexpected and flops as so many promising predecessors have done after a year or so, he ought to be good for four or five years, perhaps even longer. But not much longer, considering that he's 30 now. In any case it seems fairly certain that he always will be able to look back on a few great seasons.

DOROTHY FORBES IS CANDIDATE FOR CROWN

PHILADELPHIA, July 22—(INS)—Since the time Eleanor Holm Jarrett was barred from the United States Olympic swimming team for including champagne in her training menu, a host of mermaids have been figuring on stepping into her shoes when the 1940 games roll around.

One of the most likely candidates to succeed the former amateur backstroke champion is 17-year-old Dorothy Forbes, of Camden and Philadelphia. She now holds five of the world's records Mrs. Jarrett formerly held besides numerous national, district and Middle Atlantic marks in both the backstroke and free style fields.

Dorothy, who swims for the Philadelphia Broadwood A. C., hopes to have all of Eleanor's marks when she reaches her 20th birthday in three years. She is now a junior in the Woodrow Wilson High School, Camden, N. J. Among her present titles is the 100-yard senior championship, one of the most valued feats among feminine swimmers.

Obedient the advice of her coach, Bill Watson, Dorothy avoids starchy foods, pies and candy. She concentrates on steaks.

Despite the fact that she is out to add Mrs. Jarrett's laurels to her collection Dorothy and Eleanor are the closest of friends.

"There isn't a time I set a new mark or win a title that I don't get a telegram or letter of congratulation from Eleanor," declares Dorothy. "We correspond regularly and she's always doing what she can to help me."

STATE NEWS

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)—Public school authorities have discovered that a majority of last year's high and vocational school's graduates obtained jobs soon after commencement.

The drift back toward better employment conditions was reported by Superintendent of Schools Edwin M. Broome, after a survey conducted among 8,124 men and women graduated in 1935. About 60 per cent of this number were employed at the time they answered questionnaires sent them by Dr. Broome. Vocational graduates led the high school graduates, inasmuch as 71 per cent of the former and 59 per cent of the latter were employed.

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)—Jack Williams, sophomore mound ace of the Temple University baseball team last spring, predicted before the season started that he would win 75 per cent of his starting games. And he did just that, winning nine and losing three.

Williams struck out 115 batsmen in 98 innings, a new Temple record. His greatest knockout feat came against New York University when he fanned 16.

PALMERTON—(INS)—Operators of an illegal still capable of producing 2,000 gallons of alcohol daily in a secluded ravine near here are in the toils of the law because a passing motorist got curious.

The motorist stopped at a stream to fill the radiator of his car, noticed the unusual brown color of the water and the fetid odor about the place and notified authorities. The raiders found the still in operation.

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)—Building construction in Philadelphia during June reached the largest total since 1930 according to statistics of the Bureau of Building Inspection.

During the month, 880 permits for 1173 operations involving a cost of $2,117,980 were issued, the report shows.

SMITHS STILL ON TOP

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (INS) — The Smiths led the Browns and Joneses in a tabulation appearing here recently in a new city directory. Smiths totaled 2,303, Joneses 1,112 and Browns 1,631. The new directory was delayed because of the shift in population and changes of address caused by the January-February flood. Despite the disaster, however, the survey showed industrial employment gained 4.15 per cent in a year, reaching a post-depression peak.
